TITUSVILLE, PA., TUESDAY, OCTOBER

Titusville Morning Herald.

The Contest in Philadelphia. explains how the Democratic majorities in Philadelphia, principally in the 1st Congressional District, were obtained:

District, were obtained:

"All the might and power of the Administration was brought to beer upon the election of the Democratic ticket. The mary-jurd had been filled with voters; the burns and shubs in the southern suburbalwere packed with colonists, bearing their tax receipts in their pockets. The Democratic party enjoyed the advantages of the mint, the arsenal, the post office, the mary yard, and all the public departments. The employees there were retuned, it was understood, for the precent, one condition that they voted for Heiser Clyiner and the fusion ficket, while their future retenton in their positions depended upon the assiduir with condition that they voted for Hiester Clymer and the histon theket, while their future election in their positions depended upon the assiduity with which they worked for this party."

Therefore the contest was gladiatorial; both parties applied themselves to it with intensest earnestness. There was little or none of the maint ceremonial attending an election. The Democrate found in the change of hour of voting—which now is from 7 a. m. 10 0 p. m.—that there was no opportunity for their usual stategy after the hour of ingliffall Therefore they worked in the enty day, and with such assidiaty that at soon-tide it seemed as if they were earrying everything before them.

There was recorted to by the Democrats the most shameless trickery. Thoy set whiskey a flowing almost in continuous streams. Hundreds of little down-town groggery keepers were authorized to distribute whiskey a flotting, and the money for the treats was paid to thom in adtance. There was no "trust" in these trades—For the payment for the music to which these people danced the pipers invariably exacted payment in advance.

Can Jefferson Davis be Convicted in Virginia i

J. B. Baldwin, who is spoken of as "an ex-Conederate and prominent politicism" of Virginia

"I do not sue why he could not be convicted of treason in Virginia has used he while could not be convicted of treason in Virginia has used as any other man could be convicted of any other others, if the daw is distictly laid down to the jury, and you happen to get an honest jury. I do not see why not. In Virginia 800 out of every 1,000 people at lenst, nere in the same boat with Jefferson Davis. not. In Virginia 1819 out of every 1,000 people at least, were in the same boat with delferon Davis. I do not evergerate when I say 1881 out of every 1,000. And of course you would find it difficult to get any confederate of his, those who were with him, and fighting for him, and hurraining for him all the time, to desire to contect him. They would not do it if they would help It; but that you can find enough housest men in Virginia or any other Southern State to respond to a question of fact, I am as well satisfied at I am of anything. Take my own case; I never believed in the right of secession, I do not believe in it now. I always looked upon the whole thing as an obsurdicy and a humbur / I always believed, and believe now, that as a question of law, egit and power, the Government had a tight to hang defi Davis and me too. The question of power and the question of policy are different questions. If I were to sit as a jure on defi Davis case or my own, or Keen's [I would not need anythist actions from a Judge to make me sy that in ought to be hanged—not a bit. These one any views of the law and of the lacts. Then one a great many people in Virgunia of the same way of thinking.

A Father Suct by his Daugnier's SuiterFrom the Allewy Journal, Gotober 6.

A young man named Judson Palmer, residing in Coeym us, has for some time been paying instrument on a diaghter of Argilbaid Stevens, a wealth; faturer of the town, and they were limitly engaged to be martial. Mr. Stovens was displeased with the engagement, especially as the girl is only in her fitteenth year. He forbade Palmer entering his house, and cantioned his daughter against meeting or speaking to him. Ko kept his daughter so closely at home that it is thought that for some months they did not meet.

Yesterday, however, during a brief absonce from home, he leaned that Paliner and his daughter had started in a curriage together for Cocymans Bollow, which is amont two miles from Mr. Stevens' residence. The lather hume-diately started in pursuit. He mot Paliner at the Hollow, near the house of Mr. Elects Shear, but his daughter was not with him. Here, it would seem from the reports that reach us, they had some alterestion, when Paliner left Mr. Stevens, entered the house of Mr. Stewn, here riefy bastoned up stairs, saying as he went where shall I go? Stevens says he'd shoot me." Paliner was followed closely by Stevens, and was heard to ask, as he went up stairs, "where is my daughter?"

The himates of the house were all in the rooms on the first face. In a bilef momentality the patters went up stairs, they head two or three pixels shots fleet, followed instantly by the appearance of Paliner without his hat, one side

Stoves and Tinware, three patols shots fleel, followed instantly by the appearance of Palmer without his bat, one side of his face streaming with thood, and exclaiming as he passed through the flont door, 'I've shot Stevenses' 'A few initiates later he was seen riding out of the village with the girl beside him in the carriege.

Mr. Shear's family immediately weak up starts, where they found Mr. Stevens quite dead, from a pistol shot, which had entered his cheek and pierced the brain. Poliner's hat was found, and had been shot.

ROBERT R. HARRIS FOUND DEAD .- The Rock

ester Express of Saturday says that Robert R.

Harris, a well-known Democratic politician of that city, for some days past has been absent from his home on the East Side, and his friend wer greatly alarmed as to bis whereabouts, as It was known that for a few months past he has no realized yesterday afternoon when the Intelligenee was brought to the city that a woman lac discovered the body of a man on the bank of the river below the high bank, East Side, a few rod:

woolen factory. Coroner Robb was sent for and the remains found to be those of Mr. Harris, who had probably wandered to the river bank and fallen down the declivity. His neck was broken and shoulder dislocated. When found his head urday, and found business a good deal liveliar there than it was six months ago. We are credibly informed that the production of Pithole is now about 1,900 barrels daily. Leard & Wright proprietors of one of the oldest machine shops there assure us that their business was never bet ter and that they keep seven men constantly employed in making and repairing the apparatus for wells. The Chase House new monopolizes the greater part of the travel and presents it guests with a generous bill of fare at reasonable ates. The streets no longer swarm with an eager crowd of speculators, but those who remain devote themselves to the testing of territory and the production of oil. Fires are now of rare occurrence, the insurance companies having canest of their risks, except in case of per sons of established character. Many of the build ings have been taken down and removed to Oil of the stores, and the business being concern trated in fewer hands, is conducted with greater profit to the mercantile class. The days of teaming are of course over. Railronds and pipes now perform the bulk of the transportation of oil. THE PRICE OF PAPER.-There is general and very just complaint among publishers of the enormous price of paper, for which there is no enormous price of paper, for which there is no reason but the greed of the manufacturers. The principle of taxing tuxuries as much as possible and necessities as little as possible is undoubtedly epirect and meets with general approval.

Ly correct and meets with general approval.

Newspapers and periodicals have long since hecome so common that they are no longer regard ed as luxuries but rather as necessities and enter regularly into many homes where nothing else is over seen beyond what is absolutely essential to sustain life. Under this consideration and in obedience to the general demand, the tax on pa per was removed. But the result thus fur has been that the people are taxed as heavily as ever for their reading matter and the United States Treasury has lost a revenue of $1,082,470 per annum. The only gainers are the paper makers who are enabled to hold the article at the old prices because foreign competition is shut out by the import duty, and who, as was shown by ; paragraph that we published a day or two since have been making over one hundred per cent. profit on their capital. If this heavy tax must come out of the people, it might better be put into the national coffers than into the puckets of It is plainly the duty of Congress either to re impose the internal tox or abolish the import duty. We believe the latter would be preferable There is no good reason why home manufactur ers could not make a fair profit in competition with foreign manufacturers if the duty were re-moved. This duty is about twenty per cent. and a corresponding reduction would leave then a profit of about sixty per cent.-quite enough to satisfy any reasonable capitalist. It needs no argument to show that it is the highest wisdom in our legislators to make the means of educa-tion and the diffusion of knowledge among the people se cheap as possible.

The Street Superintendent is prosecuting on public improvements on Franklin street with commendable energy. The ups and downs of that lithertow retelied thoroughfure are being reduced to a uniform grade. A great deal of fill ing in at the sides of the street is accessary as a that the curtistone already laid has settled in many places. This clique has been foiled in their nefarious schemes. That they are not read completely out of the party is due wholly to the magnanimity of those true Republicans who supported the whole ticket. They did their best to break up the party. Will the Republicans of Crawford county forgive or forget this? I am not of course authorized to speak for the party; but I suppose the general sentiment is that their past conduct will be forgiven if they "bring forth truits meet for repentance."
